Nickel Plate History

The Indianapolis-Peru-Chicago Railroad was chartered in 1846. It began serving Peru in 1854 and Rochester in 1868.

The line operated passenger service under various names, including the Nickel Plate, until 1932.

The railbed south of Rochester became part of the federal Railbank program in 1999.

Trail organizers got their first grant to pave the southern part of the trail, between Cassville and Peru, in 2004.

The Nickel Plate Trail between Rochester and Peru opened Oct. 2, 2010.
